A hand-drawn sketch of a floor plan. The plan is divided into several rooms. On the left, there is a tall, narrow room. To its right is a larger room containing a tall, narrow cabinet and a smaller, wider cabinet. Further right is a room with a large, rectangular table and a smaller, square table. Below these rooms, there is a row of three smaller rooms. The first room on the left contains a small, round table. The middle room contains a small, rectangular table. The room on the right contains a small, rectangular table. The entire floor plan is enclosed within a rectangular border.
